

Being part of JEENA

Elizabeth Paturi

Being at Jeena,
Is like visiting an old friend,
Like being among family,
Where we all share one hope,
And strive for a common goal,
Which is

To see our children,
Happy and accepted,
As who they are,
Just the way they are,
Without being judged,
But invited in with open arms,
And cheered on to do their best.

To me, Jeena is not a building or a place,
But a group of friends,
Ones near and dear to our hearts,
Bonded together,
Through the likeness of our children,
As we journey together as parents on a mission.

Being part of Jeena is:

Where

I can leave my son not worrying about him being judged or him wandering off I get to meet a group of most dedicated parents I get to meet some wonderful people who tirelessly work to get Jeena going I see bunch of amazing kids with wonderful talents and bright eyes full of innocence Some, with the most sense of humor Some, can't tell you what they are capable of Some, are in a much higher plane you are incapable of figuring them out It goes on....

Yes, being part of Jeena is the feeling of being home.

Being a part of JEENA for me and my family is like COMING ALIVE, in a way living up to its name. JEENA has no boundaries and has no dearth of potential when it comes to our children; the onus is on us to identify and tap it (Jeena Yahaan).
We "Jeenaites" have learnt to energize each other every time we meet. At JEENA positive and fun attitude pervades to the point of being infectious!

Being a part of Jeena has made me see that there are so many parents like me who have special needs children, and it's a place where I can go to talk about any problem concerning my son, Raj. Someone is always there to listen to me and provide support. When there are classes and events at Jeena I don't mind bringing Raj to attend, since there's always something for him to do.

I really appreciate the fact that the teachers are so flexible and adapt to my son's learning needs.

Being part of Jeena family for me is letting my child be himself without worrying about the "differences", where differences are embraced as normal.

Jeena is the place, where you find the purest and innocent smiles.

Jeena is a place of inspiration, where I get to meet the most committed parents

And much more...
